

You're developing a user authentication system for a web application. Users can log in using

- 1) Callbacks
- 2) promises, and
- 3) `async/await`.

You need to simulate user authentication and handle both successful and failed login attempts.